A Rocky Road Ahead...

Argh! Chuck's wife, the beautiful Ophelia, has been captured by the abominable Gary Critter! Chuck will do anything to get his wife back — climb the highest mountains, swim the deepest oceans, and force his way through fierce jungles and icy Arctic terrain. Deranged dinosaurs and bizarre beasts, all with Chuck round in mind, lurk behind every rock and tree! But Chuck can really chuck those rocks, and he wields the meanest belly-bump on the continent. He's up to the challenge!

It's up to you to get Chuck through the prehistoric wilderness and help him find his beloved. Can you help the caveman couple? Or will their future wind up on the rocks?

information on passwords, refer to page 7.

Let's Rock!

Each stage is littered with two types of rocks which can be very useful. Stack and climb them, use them for protection, or hit Chuck's enemies with them. Experiment! Remember that Chuck can carry only one rock at a time, and when Chuck is carrying a rock, his walking speed changes and he can't jump very high.

Press the D-Button down and press Button 1 to make Chuck pick up a rock.

Press Button 1 again to make Chuck throw the rock he's holding.

Press Button 2 to make Chuck jump, then press Button 1 to make him chuck his rock in mid-air.

Press the D-Button down before pressing Button 1 to make Chuck set the rock down at his feet.

Chances Remaining: Chuck has three Chances to save Ophelia. When all the Chances are lost, the game ends. You can press the Start Button to reset your score and start the game at the beginning.

Chuck's Stamina: Whenever Chuck goes for a swim, pay attention to this little face in the upper left corner of the screen. When the face turns completely blue, Chuck loses a Chance.

Chuck's Health: Chuck loses health every time he touches an enemy creature or stumbles into dangerous terrain (he'll let you know). When the heart disappears, Chuck loses a Chance.

Goodies

Not everything out there is bad for Chuck. Some items can actually help him in his travels:

Anything that looks like food is worth extra points. Pick the food up by making Chuck walk over it.

Bouncing hearts restore a little bit of Chuck's health when he touches them.

Sleeping creatures can be helpful in getting Chuck to where he wants to go. Look for red pterodactyls, giant frogs, mini-mammoths and crocodiles.

Look for any special items (such as stuffed pig heads, smiling starfish or frozen peas) lying around. Touching them will give you a big bonus!

The Password

Chuck must rock his way through five stages in order to find his beloved Ophelia. When Chuck completes each stage, a password will appear on the screen. Write it down so that you can continue Chuck's quest at any time without having to return to the beginning of the game.

To use the password, press the Start Button to bring up the Selection screen. Use the D-Button to select "Password," and press Button 1. Enter your password using the D-Button to select, and Button 1 to enter each character. If the computer accepts your password, the words, "Password Accepted" will appear on the screen and the game will begin on the level whose password you had entered. If the words "Password Denied" appear, the initial selection screen will return for you to try again.

If you need to pause the game for any reason, press the Start Button. A screen with three options will appear. You have the choice of resuming the game when you're ready; of starting at the beginning of the level you are currently playing; or of ending the game. Use the D-Button to make your selection, then press Button 1.

Note: If you choose to restart at the beginning of the level you are playing, Chuck's health will stay the same as when you paused the game.

The Lay of the Land

Stage One: It's a Jungle Out There

Chuck begins his journey and finds it's not just a romp in the daisies! Critters in the trees hurl coconuts at Chuck's Neanderthal noggin. Dinosaurs and snappy little alligators rush Chuck from every direction! Rock 'em from a distance, or use a fast belly-bump to get them out of the way. The green swamp water is toxic, so hitch a ride on a waterspout, or use a rock as a bridge. Bonk a croc on the head with a rock and see what happens! Boulders rumble down the hillsides – make Chuck duck! Watch out for suspicious-looking rocks, and remember — some creatures are harder to get rid of than others!

And just when you thought you were out of the jungle... In charges Frank the Triceratops! Bonk him, but don't let him catch you!

Stage Two: Going Fishin'

The fish are biting, and Chuck's the bait! Swim around and dispatch the sea creatures with a caveman kick, or use a convenient rock to weigh Chuck down and take a walk on the ocean floor. Take a ride on a waterspout, and if you see any giant frogs napping, wake them up – they might take you where you want to go.

But you're not out of the water yet! Face down Nessie the Sea Monster and her legion of crabs in order to continue your search for Ophelia!

Stage Three: Caught in the Ice Age

It's freezing out here! Chuck isn't dressed for the occasion, but neither are his enemies, and the cold makes them cranky! Slow down, and watch for falling icicles! Bump the sliding dino-cicles and stop any snowball fights from putting you out of the action! Wake a mini-mammoth up with a belly-bump – he won't like it, but he will give you a lift.

At the end of the Arctic trail you'll meet Wayne the Woolly Mammoth. Can Chuck bump the behemoth off with his boisterous belly-bump?

Stage Four: The Happy Hunting Ground

Chuck has stumbled onto the legendary Dinosaur Graveyard. Is this a bad omen? Could this be the end? Whatever it is, it's not for the weak of stomach!

Stage Five: The Big Battle

Gary Critter has enlisted the help of the biggest, baddest dinosaur yet – Terry the Terrible Tyrannosaurus – as his final defense against the courageous caveman. Will you and Chuck best the brute, or will Chuck join the rest of the fossils here? He'll need some fancy footwork and plenty of guts. Good luck, Chuck!

Game Over

Chuck has three Chances to save Ophelia, and when he loses all three Chances the game ends. Press the Start Button to start the game from the beginning of the first stage, or use a password to bring you back to the stage where Chuck had last gone belly-up.

Helpful Hints

- If you come across a useable rock, grab it and take it with you – you'll probably need it.
- Take your time, and watch the movements of your enemies from a safe place. This will make it easier to dodge or defeat them when they come at you.
- Before you toss a rock onto high ground, first make sure that Chuck doesn't need that rock to climb up.
- Remember – especially in the ocean stage – that dangerous things come in small packages!
